

What The Action Group looks for in an applicant?

SUPPORT WORKER

We are looking for people who are caring, fun, motivated, creative and great at problem solving.

The people we support want workers who are friendly, practically minded and are great communicators. The ideal candidate will be fully committed to The Action Group's values of equality, inclusion and opportunity for all.

The job can include anything from supporting people to get out and about, taking care of themselves and their homes, and going about their lives in general, to support with work, health and well-being, or attending and participating in activities.

By joining The Action Group, you are joining an enthusiastic team committed to making a real difference in the lives of others. You will learn what it means to provide complete person-centred support for people with learning disabilities and other support needs, helping them to live full lives within their community today, tomorrow and always.

No experience is required since we will provide bespoke training and support you in achieving relevant qualifications. In fact, many of our support workers go on to complete formal qualifications in social care as they develop their professional skills!

Shares our values

Good in a team

Practically-minded

Not afraid to think

A nice person

Gets the details right