

Introduction

Welcome to the Winter edition of Real Jobs newsletter.

We recently received good news about the planned extension to the All in Edinburgh (AiE) supported employment project, where our funding is extended to September 2021.

We also expect the AiE service to be tendered out next year and await more news about what this will mean for our own and other employability services. Regardless, despite many obvious challenges in 2020 we continue to help people to prepare for, secure and retain employment, and also manage changes to working conditions. While a major challenge has been the lack of access to office resources or meeting rooms for people we support, we have adapted by finding other places to meet people directly where possible, in step with ever - changing COVID-19 regulations and risk-assessing as we go. In addition to providing support into work, assisting to manage mental health and wellbeing needs has been a key aspect of the support we provide. We have also helped people to stay connected via digital equipment through accessing various available funds and have assisted people to use these effectively.

In this edition we also feature other aspects of our support which we hope will be of interest. For the meantime, we at Real Jobs and The Action Group wish you and loved ones a very Happy Christmas and look forward to staying in touch in 2021 – which we look forward to being a better year for everyone!

Laura

Laura has worked at the Royal Mail Depot café for 20 years which she celebrated this year.

Unfortunately, Laura, like many others, shielded and was not at work for many months.

Laura is now back at work and coping well with all the changes that have been put in place due to Covid 19.

Laura's main duties were dishes and cleaning duties, however as this is a joint effort by the whole team, Laura is now taking on more kitchen assistant tasks as well as carrying out her cleaning duties.

Laura's manager is mixing up Laura's chores to keep Laura's working day new and interesting. Recently Laura has been peeling the vegetables and baking.  $\rightarrow$

Well Done Laura, taking on new jobs at work! ☺
